

Katie Woo

Cartwheel Katie

by Fran Manushkin • illustrated by Tammie Lyon

Her mom asked, “Would you like to take gymnastics
class?”

“Yes!” yelled Katie. “Then
I can be a TV star.”

“That may take awhile,”
said her mom. “But you’ll still have fun.”

Katie and JoJo went to class together.

“Welcome,” said Miss
Nimble. “Let’s stretch first.”

“I’m great at stretching,” bragged Katie.

“You look like my cat,”
said JoJo.

At the next class, Miss Nimble said, “Today we will begin cartwheels. They are tricky but lots of fun.”

Mattie did great cartwheels.

But Katie fell to the right.

Then she fell to the left.

“I don’t like cartwheels,” she decided. “They are silly.”